Oklahoma County Extension Office
2500 NE 63rd ST, OKC, OK 73111

SJSA PROFILE
The Social Justice Sewing Academy (SJSA) is a youth education program that bridges artistic expression with activism to advocate for social justice. Through a series of hands-on workshops in schools, prisons, and community centers across the country, SJSA empowers youth to use textile art as a vehicle for personal transformation, community cohesion and as agents of social change. Young artists make art that explores issues such as gender discrimination, mass incarceration, gun violence and gentrification. The powerful imagery created in cloth quilt blocks tells their stories. This visual dialogue bridges differences in race, age and socioeconomics and sparks conversations and action in households across the country.

TRAIN THE TRAINER TEAM
Team will be composed of no less than two people – two adult volunteers, an adult and teen volunteer, or adult volunteer and Extension educator. Each team must have an adult partner. We encourage that the team be led by an adult volunteer.

INDIVIDUALS
Any adult or teen conducting a SJSA on behalf of the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension and 4-H Youth Development must be Certified Volunteer.

TRAIN THE TRAINER EXPECTATION
A club, county, district will bring a team(s) who will return home to implement a minimum of one program (club, community, school) and one training at the county/district/state level. The SJSA T3 teams will be called upon to do additional trainings as requests are received.

Following the on-site training, each team will participate in web based cohorts each month for the first 6-8 months, as they implement, learn and share from local programming in preparation for training others who want to implement a SJSA.
